Pierre Ouillet joined UBC in 2009 and is Chief Financial Officer with oversight over a $2 billion operating budget across UBC's Vancouver and Okanagan campuses. Pierre is also responsible for managing UBC's Infrastructure, Building Operations, and Ancillary businesses such as Student Housing, Parking, Hospitality, and the Bookstore, the largest operation of its kind in Canada with 11,000 beds. He has oversight over Campus and Community Planning for both the Academic Precinct and University Town, a socially and environmentally sustainable community of 20,000 residents in Point Grey. Pierre is also a Board Member for UBC Investment Management Trust ($2 billion in assets under management) and UBC Properties Trust, the enterprise responsible for all market and institutional development on UBC lands.

Pierre has focused on streamlining and simplifying the University's operations while building a sustainable economic model for the long term. He has also partnered with UBC faculties to turn UBC and University Town into a Living Laboratory that is positioning British Columbia as a global innovation hub for the green economy.

Prior to joining UBC, Pierre held several leadership positions at Best Buy International, in Retail, Merchandising, and in Finance where he had responsibility over 2,000 stores in Canada, China, Mexico, and Europe. Pierre was also an Associate Principal with McKinsey & Company for six years, leading strategic growth or operational improvement initiatives across Europe and North America. He started his career as an Aerospace Engineer in France and in the USA.

Pierre has a Master of Science from University of Maryland, a Master of Business Administration from INSEAD, and he is a Certified General Accountant.
